

A2A Business Plan News

February 2016

Milan district heating network - system development:

- interconnection between southern and western zones completed;
- three new heat sources from industrial parties now connected to northern zone network.

BU: Networks and Heating

Brescia district heating network: Ori Martin steelworks newly connected - thermal capacity 10 MWt.

BU: Networks and Heating

The design of a new city enabling infrastructure will allow A2A to launch new services in H2 2016 - Smart City Lab event for stakeholders to be held in March, in collaboration with Google.

Smart City

A2A, other Italian and European partners started in January the Sharing Cities project, co-funded by EU. Innovative solutions for building blocks efficiency, mobility, communication infrastructure and energy management will be applied to an existing district in the southern zone of Milan.

Smart City

Moody's affirms A2A's Baa3 ratings; outlook stable. It follows a review of A2A's exposure to a weakening power price environment.

BU: Corporate - Finance

A2A took part in the third Smart Working Day promoted by the Municipality of Milan - 95% of the colleagues who have been given this opportunity joined the initiative. Pilot projects to be implemented soon inside the Company.

BU: Corporate - Human Resources

New projects for about 700 employees working in Information & Communication Technologies, Health Safety & Environment and networks departments to enhance technical skills and know how.

BU: Corporate - Human Resources

A2A started a share buyback programme as of 16 February 2016 (max 1% of share capital to be purchased), pursuant to 2015 AGM resolution, for development objectives - such as transactions related to business projects consistent with A2A strategies.

M&A / Finance

New International Business Unit set up with the aim of optimizing existing assets and current operations, as well as for business development.

BU: International